

2019 Neighborhood Supported Agriculture (NSA) Program

HUGS

Homeland Urban Gardening Systems

Homeland Urban Gardening Systems (HUGS) NSA offers a variety of delicious, sustainably grown vegetables and so much more. When you join the HUGS NSA you join an urban farming movement focused on finding practical remedies to:

- reduce food insecurity
- improve soil quality
- rechannel carbon energy

The use of hyperlocal neighborhood farms and home composting brings nutrient dense food to your table with a minimal carbon footprint.

Each HUGS NSA box will include a selection of classic favorites including tomatoes, carrots, potatoes, and onions. In addition to the classics, you can look forward to a variety of mixed greens, spinach, kale, radishes, beets, summer/winter squash and cucumbers. And, as a special treat, your NSA box will occasionally contain delights such as lemon cucumbers, herb mixes and Colorado-grown sweet potatoes.

Share pick-up will begin mid-May and run through mid-October (approx. 21 weeks). Pick-up days and locations are: Fridays from 4:00 pm to 7:00 pm at Sweet Sulfur Farm (off East Mulberry) and Saturdays from 8:00 am to 12:00 noon at Old Town Market (Oak & Howes).

HUGS is committed to preserving the land that provides our food. Your participation in the 2019 NSA program makes it possible to improve food security while continuing our soil rejuvenation and carbon sequestration efforts. Your membership can make a difference. Join today!
